Deep in the African bushveld, Eventiera Wildlife Park is situated in the “World-Renowned Waterberg Biosphere”. It all started out as a little boy’s dream, when he said:

“One day when I am big, I want a TIGER.”

It remained a dream until 1 August 2009, when Erich Venter received a baby lion – named Simba – for his birthday. From there his dream became a reality and continued to expand. It remains a dream in the making. In the past years, Eventiera Wild Life Park has rehabilitated a variety of orphaned or hurt animals. Most of the animals were rescued from Nigel Zoo and were given a second change at LIFE at Eventiera Wild Life Park.

Eventiera Wildlife Park is famed for its: Siberian Tigers; Bengal Tigers; Wildogs; African Lions; White Lions; Wolves; Coati Bears; Alpacas and the abundance of endangered game species.
